RODEO COMMITTEE FOR 2004

WELCOME, RODEO FANS!

The St. George Lions Club 2005 Rodeo Committee is pleased and proud to bring you the best PRCA Rodeo and one of the oldest traditions around.

We have the great stock of Bar T, along with the best PRCA contestants, bullfighters and barrelmen.

We would like to thank the community and all the sponsors bringing you our historic 701st Annual Rodeo while you sit on these concrete steps and look around the arena that has been a part of this community for so many years. The Lions Members thank you for your continued support of this great event.

So go get some snacks, take a seat, get excited and have fun!

LET'S RODEO!

DANIEL D. McARTHUR
Mayor, St. George

It is indeed a pleasure for me as mayor of the City of St. George to welcome you to the Sunbowl for the St. George Lions' annual Dixie Round-Up! For those of you who are visiting our City for the first time, I hope you will have the opportunity to mingle with our friendly citizens and partake of the many recreational opportunities St. George has to offer. We also have many fine restaurants, first-rate shopping, and there are numerous nearby state and national parks to hike and explore.

St. George is proud of its pioneer heritage, and its legacy of volunteerism and community spirit. The Lions' Club has played a vital role in this legacy, and I would like to thank them for their involvement in our community and for the many charitable and social events which they sponsor for the betterment of our City.

Again, welcome to Utah's Dixie, and enjoy the show!

GRANT LARSEN
Lion President

As President of the St. George Lions Club and on behalf of the membership, we welcome all of you out to the 71st Annual Dixie Roundup and Rodeo. We are honored and proud to be able to keep this tradition alive.

It is a humbling experience to be a part of an organization that can present the outstanding activities we have prepared for this year's Roundup. With the Concert, Rodeo, and Sponsors, we hope to be able to participate in many events. The funds raised will assist with the numerous charities and community activities we support. We help the youth of today to realize their dreams and become the leaders of tomorrow.

We have worked hard to ensure the best cowboys and the greatest stock in the business are here for your entertainment and enjoyment. Thanks again to our many sponsors, the City of St. George, and you, the fans, for making this tradition a success. Get comfortable and enjoy the show!

The St. George Lions Club is proud to honor the 222nd
and Their Families
for their sacrifice and dedication to keep our traditions alive.

The Flag Burning

Author Unknown

A protest raged on a courthouse lawn,
Round a makeshift stage they charged on,
Fifteen hundred or more they say,
Had come to burn a Flag that day.

A boy held up the folded Flag,
Cursed it, and called it a dirty rag.
An Old Man pushed through the angry crowd,
With a rusty shotgun shouldered proud.

His uniform jacket was old and tight,
He had polished each button, shiny and bright.
He crossed that stage with a soldier's grace,
Until he and the boy stood face to face.

"Freedom Of Speech," the Old Man said,
"Is worth dying for, good men are dead,
So you can stand on this courthouse lawn,
And talk us down from dusk to dawn,
But before any Flag gets burned today,
This Old Man is going to have his say!"

"My father died on a foreign shore,
In a war they said would end all war.
But Tommy and I weren't even full grown,
Before we fought in a war of our own.

And Tommy died on Iwo Jima's beach,
In the shadow of a hill he couldn't quite reach.
Where five good men raised the Flag so high,
That the Whole Damn World could see it fly.

I got this bum leg that I still drag,
Fighting for this same old Flag.
Now there's but one shot in this old gun,
So now it's time to decide which one --

Which one of you will follow our lead,
To stand and die for what you believe?
For as sure as there is a rising sun,
You'll burn in Hell before This Flag burns, son."

Now this riot never came to pass.
The crowd got quiet and that can of gas,
Got set aside as they walked away
To talk about what they had heard this day,
And the boy who had called it a dirty rag,
Handed the Old Soldier the folded Flag.

So the battle of the Flag this day was won
By a tired Old Soldier with a rusty gun,
Who for one last time, had to show to some,
THIS FLAG MAY FADE, YET THESE COLORS DON'T RUN.

HONORED LIONS MEMBERS AND PIONEERS IN COMMUNITY SERVICE

TRIBUTE LORAIN COX

Vinal Loraine Cox was born in St. George, Utah, the seventh of eleven children. He married his childhood sweetheart, Anna Carter, and they were the parents of five children. Loraine grew up in St. George where he worked for his father, Warren, who owned the old Arrowhead Hotel on Tabernacle Street. He graduated from Dixie High School where he played basketball and was the last surviving member of the championship team, the Dixie Flyers. He held many awards in basketball and track and was given a four year basketball scholarship to the University of Utah, where he received his degree in Business and Education.

Loraine worked most of his life managing McCoard Oil Company in St. George. He was the first to haul gas into Southern Utah from Los Angeles for Warren Cox and Sons' Super Station on Main Street and Tabernacle. He was the first to haul diesel for the City of St. George Power Plant and did this for many years. He and Wes Nelson hauled all the first water pipes for the city waterline from Cottonwood Springs to St. George. They also hauled the first power poles from Cedar Mountain for the St. George Lions' Rodeo grounds. He was an active member of the Lions Club and participated in many community activities. He is lovingly remembered by all who knew him.

2005 DIXIE ROUNDUP QUEEN JESSICA JIMERSON

Jessica is the 18-year old daughter of John and Sandy Jimerson. She currently attends Southern Utah University where she plans to obtain her Bachelor of Science degree, with a major in Nursing. Jessica graduated from Snow Canyon High School with honors, and placed in the top 10% in math, science, writing, reading, and social science on her SAT's. Jessica was a Cheerleader; placed first in region and qualified for nationals. She was also a member of the High School Rodeo Team, and competed in barrel racing and pole bending. Jessica is an all-outdoors type of girl that loves hunting, fishing, horseback riding, and most of all . . . rodeos! She has entertained at many local events, and has had the opportunity to sing at the Washington County Fair for the last six years. Jessica has been actively involved in the community with many service activities, was Jr. Miss Dixie 1997-98, Miss St. George 2003, Miss Iron County Rodeo Queen 2004, and was given the honor of singing the National Anthem from horseback at all the Iron County Rodeos. Jessica has many goals and accomplishments of which she can be proud. Becoming Lions' Dixie Roundup Queen has been a dream come true!

"There are so many people that i would like to thank, for without them this experience wouldn't be possible. First and most importantly, I'd like to thank the Lions for all their hard work in continuing this wonderful tradition for 71 years. Thanks for being so friendly, welcoming, and truly making us feel like a Queen and Princess. It has been an honor and a privilege being the Dixie Roundup Queen, and promoting the greatest sport of all . . . rodeo! I would also like to thank Kari Theobald, Ila Burgess, Gai Bowler, and Rita Brown for all of their help in making the contest so much fun. Thanks to our new director, Natalie Drake, for being so helpful and friendly. Thank You, Bob Logan; I have learned so much I will never forget. Special thanks go out to Art Walunus for giving me many opportunities, friendship, and believing in me. Thank you Mark Brienholt, at Colorland Photo for being so flexible with our busy schedules, and making my horse and me look "picture perfect." Tanisha, I could not have picked a better princess to have Dixie Roundup memories with than you; you're a great friend. The deepest gratitude and thanks to to Dad, Mom, Aunt Deleen, and the gang! I love you all so, so much! Thank you for all your continued love and support in everything I do. Dad, I wouldn't have a horse if it weren't for your hard work and sacrifices for our family. Thanks for being so supportive and pulling out your checkbook with a smile on your face. Mom, you are such an inspiration! Thank you for always believing in me, helping me conquer my dreams, and being my biggest fan! Grandma, this is a tribute to you. Even though you're not with me now, I know you're my Guardian Angel. I truly believe that behind every successful Rodeo Queen is a very successful team. "Shoot for the moon, for if you fall short, you will still land among the stars!" Thank you all for shining so brightly as my stars to guide me on my road to success.

Good luck to all you cowboys and cowgirls, and remember, as Pamela Star once said, "Reach high, for stars lie hidden in your soul. Dream deep, for every dream precedes the goal."

Thank you Rodeo Fans for supporting the rodeo. Enjoy the 71st annual Lions Dixie Roundup!

Rules to Ensure the Humane Treatment of Rodeo Livestock

1. No locked rowels, rowels that will lock on spurs or sharpened spurs may be used on bareback horses or saddle broncs.
2. Wooden paddles are not to be used by any PRCA member to beat or intimidate animals.
3. In calf roping, calves may not intentionally be flipped backward. Contestant must adjust rope and reins in such a manner that will prevent horse from dragging calf. The rope is to be removed from calf's body as soon as possible after "tie" is completed. Roping calves shall weigh at least 250 pounds each, and be strong and healthy.
4. Placing fingers in the eyes, lips or nose of steer while wrestling same is forbidden.
5. Animals for all events will be inspected before being selected for competition, and no sore, lame, sick or injured animal, or animal with defective eyesight, shall be permitted in the "draw" at any time. Should an animal become sick or be injured between the time it is drawn and the time it is scheduled to be used in competition, that animal shall not be used in competition and another animal will be drawn for the contestant as provided in the PRCA rule book. A veterinarian shall be present or on call for every performance and/or section of slack. Failure to do so shall result in a fine to the rodeo committee of $100 per performance.
6. No animal shall be beaten or cruelly prodded. Standard electric prods shall be used as little as possible. Animal shall be touched only on the hip or shoulder area with prod.
7. A conveyance must be available and used, if possible, to remove animals from arena in case of injury. Injured calves shall be removed from the arena in a pickup truck or calf stretcher.
8. No sharp or cutting objects shall be permitted in cinch, saddle girth, or flank straps. Only sheepskin-lined flank straps shall be used on bucking stock, and flank straps shall be of the quick-release type.

Sheepskin-lined flank straps shall be placed on the animal so the sheepskin-cover portion cover both flanks and the belly of the animal.

9. PRCA-approved saddles or rigging must be used in the saddle bronc riding and bareback riding events.

10. No stimulants or hypnotics are to be given to any animal used for contest purposes.

11. Chutes must be so constructed as to prevent injury to stock. Maintenance personnel and equipment shall be stationed at chutes to assist in removal of any animal should it become caught. The arena shall be free of rocks, holes and obstacles.

12. Clowns are not to abuse stock in any fashion.

13. No small animals or pets allowed in arena where restraint is necessary, or where subject to injury or attack by another animal.

14. Livestock shall be removed from arena after completion of entry in contest.

15. Use of fireworks to frighten animals is prohibited.

16. Contestant will be disqualified for any mistreatment of livestock.

17. No stock shall be confined or transported in vehicles beyond a period of 24 hours without being unloaded, properly fed and watered. Failure to abide by this shall subject the stock contractor or contestant involved to a $500 fine for the first offense and a progressively doubling fine for every offense thereafter.

18. Any animal that becomes excessively excited so that it gets down in the chute repeatedly, or tries repeatedly to jump out of the chute, or in any way appears to be in danger of injuring itself, should be released immediately.

19. Any PRCA member, including stock contractor, guilty of mistreatment of livestock may be fined up to $500.

20. Plaster and rebar are required to be placed around the horns of steer roping cattle before contesting and all team roping steers must have horn wraps.

TANISHA FORD 2005 Dixie Roundup Princess

Tanisha Ford is the 15 year-old daughter of Tony Ford and Dana Kirkland. She has been competing in barrel racing and 4-H since she was old enough to join. This year she will be representing Washington County and the State of Utah at the 4-H National Competition in Denver, Colorado. Tanisha is a sophomore at Dixie High School, where she maintains a 4.0 grade point average. Tanisha is a lover of horses, as well as all animals, with a desire to build a career in the animal health industry.

"Being Rodeo Princess has been my dream ever since I was a little girl. I would like to thank all the people that have helped and supported me in making my dream come true. I want to thank Lee Bendall, Bryce Christensen, and Karl Hutchings as well as all the Lions' Club members for their help and support. I would also like to thank the Royalty Committee: Karri Theobald, Ila Burgess, Natalie Drake, Gai Bowler, and Rita Brown for all of the time they spent helping us. Thank you to my dad who has hauled me to all the rodeos and has helped get my horse ready. Thanks to my mom who has always supported me in everything I do! I would also like to give a big thanks to Monica Jackson who made our outfits. Finally, I want to thank the Lions Club for their involvement with the youth and the opportunity to represent them this year as their princess.

I would like to wish all the contestants good luck. Let's Rodeo!"

THE PRCA'S CIRCUIT SYSTEM

While some full-time rodeo cowboys bask in the glory of large arenas, most members of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association are circuit cowboys.

For the circuit cowboy, rodeo is something that follows a 40-hour work week. When the weekend hits, he loads up his horses or equipment and heads down the road, usually no more than a few hundred miles, to a PRCA rodeo.

That's not to say these competitors are any less serious about their sport than their marquee counterparts. But their families or professional obligations require them to stick close to home for most of the year.

In 1975, the PRCA recognized the need for an award system for these cowboys who might never qualify for the National Finals Rodeo.

To fill the void, the Association created the Circuit System, which is composed of 12 geographic regions encompassing as few as one state, such as Texas or Montana, to as many as 13 states, as in the Fires Frontier Circuit.

Every PRCA cowboy in the United States chooses a home circuit at the beginning of each year. If a cowboy fails to select a home circuit, the PRCA automatically assigns him to the circuit that corresponds to his home address.

Circuit System cowboys compete for points throughout the year; those points earned within their circuits count toward their place in the circuit and world standings. However, points accrued at rodeos outside their circuits count only toward world standings, not circuit standings.

Each circuit's top cowboys in each event qualify for one of the PRCA's most prestigious events.

The Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo (DNCFR) is the crowning event of the PRCA's Circuit System. National circuit champions are determined at the event, which takes place each March in Pocatello, Idaho.

All PRCA cowboys are eligible to compete at the circuit level, and circuit-level cowboys are eligible to compete nationally. The DNCFR pits cowboys from throughout the country in the elimination-style format.

The DNCFR contestants all start out equal. During the four-day rodeo, contestants competed for nearly 450,000 and national circuit titles. Each year, ESPN 2 televises the final round of the DNCFR.

The BAR T RODEO INC. STOCK CONTRACTOR

The Bar T Rodeo Inc., was started in 1948, by D.A. (Swanny) Kerby when the Association was called RCA Rodeo Cowboys Association. Swanny along with his son Bud Kerby and their families have been in the Stock Contracting and Rodeo Producing Business ever since.

In 1995 Bud and his wife Evelyn bought out Swanny and Verda; however the Kerbys are still involved with the business as much as possible, allowing them to relax when they feel like it in their older age. The Kirby's have prided themselves on doing fast professional rodeos with the best bucking horses and bulls available for over 45 years. They have won numerous awards to show for their efforts, such as, the Top Bareback Horse in the World in 1976, Ol Alley Cat, the Third Best Saddle Bronc Horse in the World in 1988, R5 Deception, and the second Best Saddle Bronc horse in the World in 1991, Cl Copenhagen Sparrow. The Bar T has won several other awards, such as, the Third Best Saddle Bronc Horse at the NFR in 1989, R14 Skoal's Reception, and the Number One Saddle Bronc Horse at the NFR in 1990, Cl Copenhagen Sparrow. They have also won numerous other awards at the National Finals Rodeo, bring home many award buckles and thousands of dollars in top stock awards. In 1978 The Bar T Rodeo Company started their own bucking horse breeding program that has since proven to be very effective at producing top Bareback and Saddle bronc horses, many of which have gone to the NFR. The Bar T Rodeo Company has taken stock to the NFR since the very first one 33 Years ago in Dallas, Texas. They have been coming to St. George's Lions Dixie Round-Up for years. They also have participated in many other of the top PRCA Rodeos, such as The Denver Stock Show and Rodeo in Denver, Colorado, The Houston Live-Stock Show and Rodeo in Houston, and The Day's of '47 Rodeo, in Salt Lake City. The Bar T Rodeo Company Incorporated in 1989 to become The Bar T Rodeo Inc.

Miss Rodeo Utah 2005

Kristan Jo Gibbs

Kristan Jo is the 23 year-old daughter of Wayne and Trish Gibbs from Lewiston, Utah. She lives on the family ranch with her parents and brother Travis. Kristan is a Senior at Utah State University where she is studying Agricultural Business with an emphasis in Marketing. She plans to work for Gossner Foods, a cheese plant in Cache Valley.

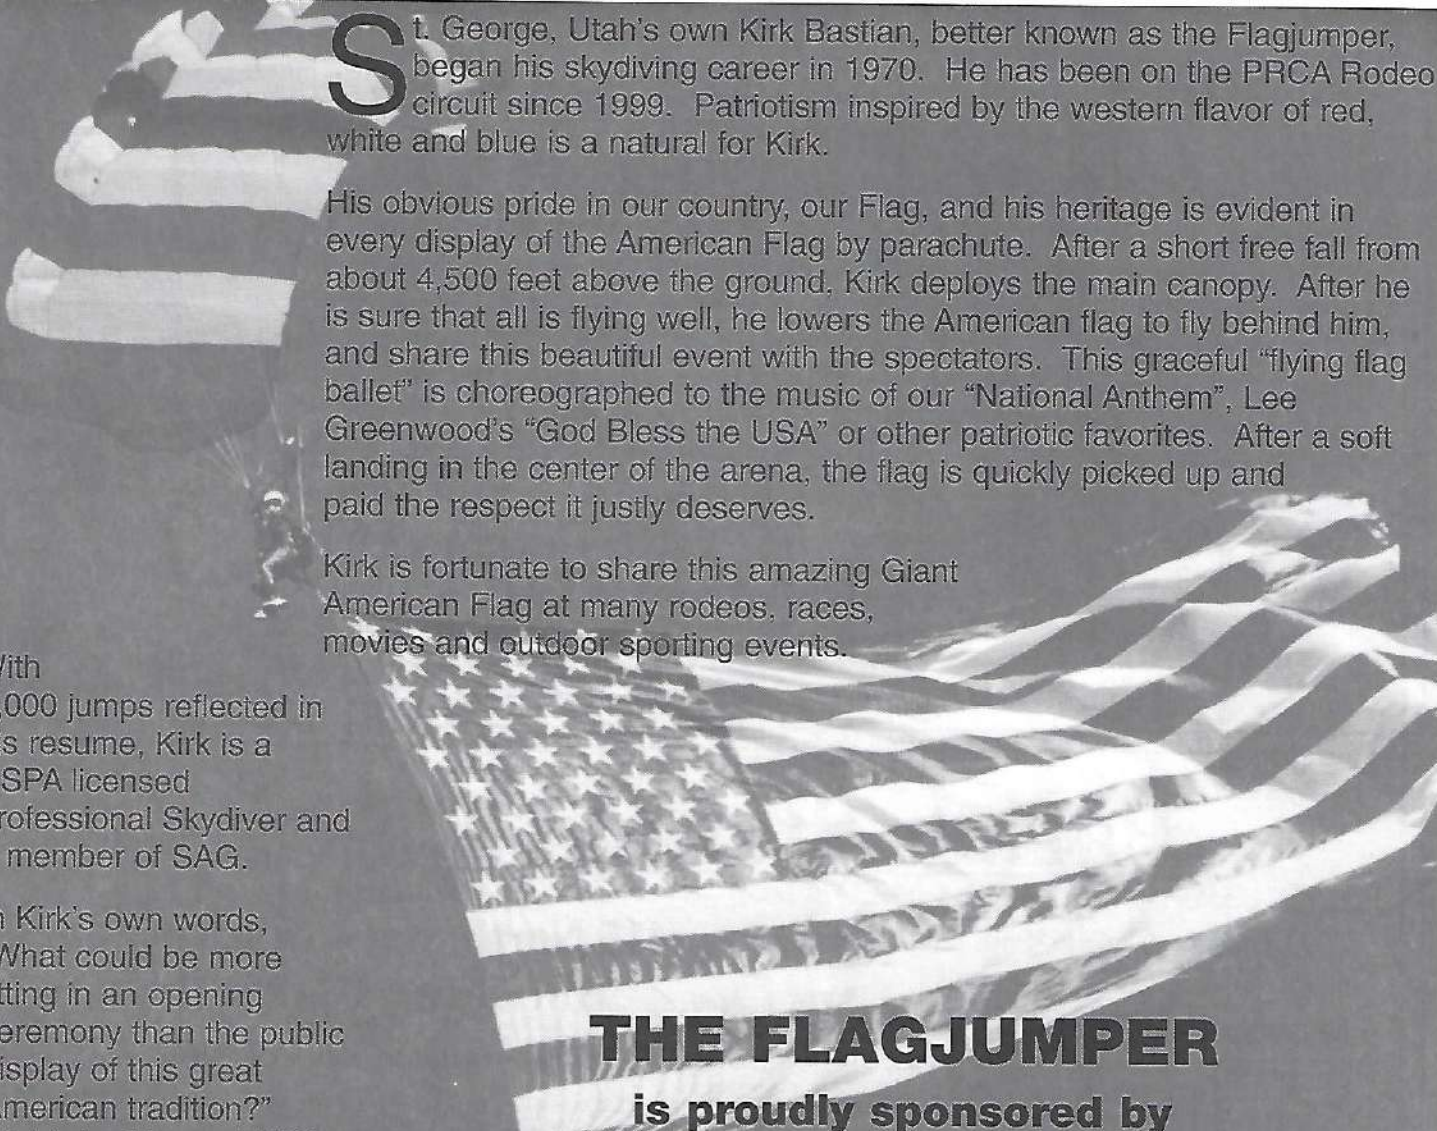

Kristan Jo was born into a rodeo family, and has been raised horseback. She was a member of the horse 4-H program, and has competed in high school and college rodeo. She enjoys running barrels, showing in reining shows, working with her family on the ranch, and riding in the mountains.

Kristan Jo won the categories of Appearance, Horsemanship, Public Speaking, and Photogenics on her way to being crowned Miss Rodeo Utah. She is looking forward to representing the state of Utah at the Miss Rodeo American pageant held in conjunction with the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas.

St. George, Utah's own Kirk Bastian, better known as the Flagjumper, began his skydiving career in 1970. He has been on the PRCA Rodeo circuit since 1999. Patriotism inspired by the western flavor of red, white and blue is a natural for Kirk.

His obvious pride in our country, our Flag, and his heritage is evident in every display of the American Flag by parachute. After a short free fall from about 4,500 feet above the ground, Kirk deploys the main canopy. After he is sure that all is flying well, he lowers the American flag to fly behind him, and share this beautiful event with the spectators. This graceful "flying flag ballet" is choreographed to the music of our "National Anthem", Lee Greenwood's "God Bless the USA" or other patriotic favorites. After a soft landing in the center of the arena, the flag is quickly picked up and paid the respect it justly deserves.

Kirk is fortunate to share this amazing Giant American Flag at many rodeos, races, movies and outdoor sporting events.

With 8,000 jumps reflected in his resume, Kirk is a USPA licensed professional Skydiver and a member of SAG.

In Kirk's own words, "What could be more fitting in an opening ceremony than the public display of this great American tradition?" Watch for him and "Old Glory" at a special outdoor event soon.

Utah's oldest local bank is also Utah's only local bank with statewide service.

You want to be able to work face-to-face with someone at your neighborhood bank.

That's why the people in your local Zions Bank branch have the power to make decisions without checking with headquarters. That's important to us because we know it's important to you.

• Branches in grocery stores have extended hours so you'll have someone at the bank to serve you in the evenings and on Saturdays.

• A statewide network of neighborhood branches and ATMs. So, you're never far from a little extra cash.

• 24-hour telephone banking and one of the best online banking services available. So you can bank however it's most convenient for you.

Meeting your financial needs through personal service and easy access to your money is what Zions Bank is all about. It's what we mean when we say, we haven't forgotten who keeps us in business.™

I'm Shaylee Holyoak and I would like the St. George Lions Club to know that as a student athlete on the path of continuing my education I truly appreciate their generous scholarship donation which I am using at Dixie State College. I am looking forward to succeeding in the classroom and on the softball field at Dixie. All my dreams and goals are just beginning and I am grateful for the support I've received from the Lions Club. They have opened the doors to many local students and I want to say thank you for everything you have done for me!

I am Chelsey Stewart and I would like to thank the St. George Lions for accepting me for their college scholarship, and for the opportunities they have opened up for me. It is good to know that I am being supported by my community in my work toward a career. Currently I am working on my general education and am interested in architecture, planning to achieve a Masters Degree in that area. I am very appreciative of your support and thank you again.

My name is Alexi Hutchings and I would like to thank you so much for awarding me a scholarship to Dixie College. I am very appreciative and honored that you have selected me as one of the recipients. Your generous donation will be of great assistance during the upcoming school year. I have recently begun classes here at Dixie and am looking forward to an exciting year, both scholastically and socially. Thanks for the support!

LANDEE MUNNS

Rodeo Clown • Barrelman

Randee Munns has been clowning rodeos for over 20 years throughout the United States. He is from Garland, Utah, where he has a ranch and horse training operation. Randee is also a brand inspector for the state of Utah, as well as a vocational welding instructor for Bridgerland Area Vocational Center in Logan, Utah. Randee will bring several unique comedy acts, along with his expertise as a bullfighter and barrelman.

"The protector of cowboy, the entertainer of the crowd," so said a well-known sports commentator. He was referring, of course, to the rodeo clown. Rodeo clowns come in all shapes and sizes and all have to be top-notch athletes in peak physical condition. They have to be agile, quick, fearless, have the memory of a computer and an encyclopedia knowledge of bulls.

There are basically two types of clowns: the bull fighter and the barrelman. They both have serious jobs to do with a little flair of comedy thrown in. The bullfighter clowns are the track stars. They are out in the arena to distract the unpredictable bull from a downfallen cowboy. Pick-up men on horseback can't be used around the ill-tempered bulls.

The other type of rodeo clown is the barrelman. He uses himself and his barrel as a diversionary obstacle. He hauls a heavy, battered, reinforced metal barrel around, and folds himself inside like an accordion. Once inside the barrel, he awaits the blows of the irate bull and sometimes receives an unwelcome horn or hoof inside with him.

~ RODEO HISTORY ~

It is believed that rodeo was born in 1864 when two groups of cowboys from neighboring ranches met in Deer Trail, Colorado to settle an argument over who was the best at performing everyday ranching tasks.

That gathering is considered to be the first rodeo and it started the evolution of the true American sport.

Through these daily chores, the sport of rodeo evolved. It can be said that rodeo is the only sport derived from an industry and probably the only one that ever will.

Today's professional rodeo cowboy is a bit different from his predecessor from the 1800's, but the ideals and showmanship of long ago are still valued by today's competitors.

Now the cowboy travels much of the time in custom-made rigs or flies from one rodeo to another either by commercial airline or charter plane. Marketing and business acumen have become as crucial as roping, wrestling or riding skills. Cowboys are competing for more money than ever before.

Even if a PRCA member doesn't have the inclination to spend more than 200 days a year on the road in search of a berth in the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo -- the sport's Super Bowl -- he can participate in rodeos close to home each year.

Many of these weekend warriors and those chasing world titles take their wives and children along whenever possible, helping to keep the sport close to its family-oriented roots.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Saddle bronc riding is rodeo's classic event, both a complement and contrast to the wilder spectacles of bareback riding and bull riding.

Bronc riding requires strength to be sure, but the event also demands style, grace and precise timing.

Saddle bronc riding evolved from the task of breaking and training horses to work the cattle ranches of the Old West.

Many cowboys claim riding saddle broncs is the toughest rodeo event to master because of the technical skills necessary for success.

Every Move the bronc rider makes must be synchronized with the movement of the Horse. The cowboy's objective is a fluid ride, somewhat in contrast to the wilder and less-controlled rides of bareback riders.

Among the similarities shared by saddle bronc riding and bareback riding is the rule that riders in both events must mark out their horses on the first jump from the chute.

To properly mark out his horse, the saddle bronc rider must have both heels touching the animal above the point of its shoulders when it makes the first jump from the chute. If the rider misses his mark, he receives no score.

While a bareback rider has a rigging to hold onto, the saddle bronc rider has only a thick rein attached to his horse's halter. Using one hand, the cowboy tries to stay securely seated in his saddle. If he touches any part of the horse or his own body with the free hand, he is disqualified.

Judges score the horse's bucking action, the cowboy's control of the horse and the cowboy's spurring action. While striving to keep his toes turned outward, the rider spurs from the points of the horse's shoulders to the back of the saddle. To score well, the rider must maintain that action throughout the eight-second ride.

While the bucking ability of the horse is quite naturally built into the scoring system, a smooth, rhythmic ride is sure to score better than a wild, uncontrolled effort.

STEER WRESTLING

Speed and strength are the name of the game in steer wrestling. In fact, with a world record sitting at 2.4 seconds, steer wrestling is the quickest event in rodeo.

The objective of the steer wrestler, or "bulldogger," is to use strength and technique to wrestle a steer to the ground as quickly as possible.

That sounds simple enough.

But there's a catch: the steer generally weighs more than twice as much as the cowboy and, at the time the two come together, they're often traveling at 30 miles per hour.

Speed and precision, the two most important ingredients in steer wrestling, make bulldogging one of rodeo's most challenging events.

As with calf ropers and team ropers, the bulldogger starts on horseback in a box. A breakaway rope barrier is attached to the steer a head start that is determined by the size of the arena. When the steer reaches the advantage point, the barrier is released and the bulldogger takes off in pursuit. If the bulldogger breaks the barrier before the steer reaches the head start, a 10-second penalty is assessed.

In addition to strength, two other skills critical to success in steer wrestling are timing and balance.

When the cowboy reaches the steer, he slides down the right side of his galloping horse, hooks the right arm around the steers right horn, grasps the left horn with his left hand and, using strength and leverage, slows the animal and wrestles it to the ground. His work isn't complete until the steer is on its side with all four feet pointing the same direction. But that's still not all there is to it.

In order to catch the sprinting steer, the cowboy uses a "hazer," another mounted cowboy who gallops his horse along the right side of the steer and keeps it from veering away from the bulldogger.

The efforts of the hazer can be as important as those of the steer wrestler. For that reason, and the fact a hazer sometimes supplies the bulldogger a horse, the hazer often receives a fourth of the payoff.

TEAM ROPING

Team roping, the only true team event in professional rodeo, requires close cooperation and timing between two highly skilled ropers - a header and a heeler.

The event originated on ranches when cowboys needed to treat or brand large steers and the task provided too difficult for one man.

The key to success? Hard work and endless practice. Team roping partners must perfect their timing, both as a team and with their horses.

Similar to calf ropers and steer wrestlers, team ropers start from the boxes of each side of the chute from which the steer enters the arena.

The steer gets a head start determined by the length of the arena.

One end of a breakaway barrier is attached to the steer then stretched across the open end of the header's box.

When the steer reaches its advantage point, the barrier is released and the header takes off in pursuit, with the heeler trailing slightly further behind. If the header breaks the barrier before the steer completes its head start, the ropers are assessed a 10-second penalty. Some rodeos use heeler barriers, too.

The header ropes first and must make one of three legal catches on the steer - around both horns, around one horn and the head, or around the neck. Any other catch by the header is considered illegal and the team is disqualified.

After the header makes his catch, he turns the steer to the left and exposes the steer's hind legs to the heeler. The heeler then attempts to rope both hind legs. If he catches only one foot, the team is assessed a five-second penalty.

After the cowboys catch the steer, the clock is stopped when there is no slac in their ropes and their horses face one another.

Another aspect vital to the event is the type of horses used by the ropers. The American Quarter Horse is the most popular among all timed-event competitors, particularly team ropers. Heading horses generally are taller and heavier because they need the power to turn the steer after it is roped. Heeling horses are quick and agile, enabling them to better follow the steer and react to its moves.

BAREBACK RIDING

Bareback riding is a tough way to make a living!

It's a difficult event to do correctly, and, even when you do, you can expect to be punished.

Most cowboys agree that bareback riding is the most physically demanding event in rodeo taking an immense toll on the cowboy's body.

Muscles are stretched to the limit, joints are pulled and pounded mercilessly, and ligaments are strained and frequently rearranged. The strength of bareback broncs is exceptional, and challenging them is often costly.

Bareback riders endure more abuse, suffer more injuries and carry away more long-term damage than all other rodeo cowboys.

To stay aboard the horse, a bareback rider uses a rigging made of leather and constructed to meet PRCA safety specifications. The rigging, which resembles a suitcase handle on a strap, is placed atop the horse's withers and secured with a cinch.

As the bronc and rider burst from the chute, the rider has to "mark out" his horse. In other words, he must have both spurs touching the horse's shoulders until the horse's feet hit the ground after its initial move from the chute. If the cowboy fails to do this he is disqualified.

As the bronc bucks, the rider pulls his knees up, dragging his spurs up the horse's shoulders. As the horse descends, the cowboy straightens his legs, returning his spurs over the point of the horse's shoulders in anticipation of the next jump.

But it takes more than sheer strength to make a qualified ride and earn a money-winning score. A bareback rider is judged on his spurring technique, the degree to which his toes remain turned out while he is spurring and his "exposure," or willingness to take whatever might come during his ride.

It's a tough way to make a living, all right. But, according to bareback riders, it's the cowboy way.

TIE-DOWN ROPING

As with saddle bronc riding and team roping, the roots of calf roping can be traced back to the working ranches of the Old West.

When calves were sick or injured, cowboys had to rope and immobilize them quickly for veterinary treatment. Ranch hands prided themselves on the speed with which they could rope and tie calves, and they soon turned their work into informal contests.

As the sport matured, being a good horseman and a fast sprinter became as important to the competitive calf roper as being quick and accurate with a rope.

In modern rodeo, the mounted cowboy starts from a box, a three-sided fenced area adjacent to the chute holding the calf. The fourth side of the box opens into the arena. The calf receives a head start that is determined by the length of the arena. One end of a brakeway rope barrier is looped around the calf's neck and stretched across the open end of the box. When the calf reaches its advantage point, the barrier is released. If the roper breaks the barrier before the calf reaches its head start, the cowboy is assessed a 10-second penalty.

The horse is trained to come to a stop as soon as the cowboy throws his loop and catches the calf. The cowboy then dismounts, sprints to his catch and throws it by hand, a maneuver called flanking. If the calf is not standing when the cowboy reaches it, he must allow the calf to get back on its feet, then flank it. After the calf is flanked, the roper ties any three legs together with a pigging string - a short, looped rope he clenches in his teeth during the run.

While the contestant is accomplishing all of that, his horse must pull back hard enough to eliminate any slack in the rope, but not so hard as to drag the calf.

When the roper finishes tying the calf, he throws his hands in the air as a signal that the run is completed. The roper then mounts his horse, rides forward to create slack in the rope, then waits six seconds to see if the calf remains tied. If the calf kicks free, the roper receives no time.

BULL RIDING

Rodeo competition, in the beginning, was a natural extension of the daily challenges cowboys confronted on the ranch- roping calves and breaking broncs to be ridden.

But intentionally climbing on the back of a 2000 pound bull? There is nothing natural about that. Most people, in fact, consider that a fool-hearted act.

The risks are obvious. Serious injury is always a possibility for those fearless enough to sit astride an animal that weighs a tone and is usually equipped with dangerous horns.

But cowboys do it, fans love it and bull riding ranks as one of rodeo's most popular events.

Bull riding is dangerous and predictably exciting, demanding intense physical prowess, supreme mental toughness and courage.

Like bareback and saddle bronc riders, the bull rider may use only one hand to stay aboard during the eight-second ride. If he touches the bull or himself with his free hand, he receives no score. But unlike the other roughstock events, bull riders are not required to mark out their animals. While spurring a bull can add to the cowboy's score, riders are commonly judged on their ability to stay aboard the twisting, bucking mass of muscle.

Balance, flexibility, coordination, quick reflexes and, perhaps above all, a good mental attitude are the stuff good bull riders are made of.

To stay aboard the bull, a rider uses a flat braided rope, which is wrapped around the bull's chest just behind the front legs and over its withers. One end of the bull rope, called the tail, is threaded through a loop on the other end and tightened around the bull. The rider then wraps the tail around his hand, sometimes weaving it through his fingers to further secure his grip.

Then he nods his head, the chute gate swings open and he and the bull explode into the arena.

Every bull is unique in its bucking habits. A bull may dart to the left, then to the right, then rear back. Some spin, or continuously circle in one spot in the arena. Others add jumps or kicks to their spins, while others might jump and kick in a straight line, or move side to side while bucking.
