Details: Geology & Paleontology of Southwestern Utah,
 Dr. Jerry Harris, presenter

Rocks in southwestern Utah span a vast amount of time and are a largely untapped paleontological resource. Many of the rock layers contain--or likely contain--fossils that have been virtually unexplored. Come learn about what you might see if you keep your eyes open while enjoying southwestern Utah's fabulous geology!

About the presenter:

Dr. Jerry Harris, B.A in Geoscience from the University of Colorado at Boulder; M.S. in Earth & Environmental Science from Southern Methodist University; Ph.D. in Earth & Environmental Science from the University of Pennsylvania. Professor at Dixie State University in St. George, Utah since 2004.

These FREE lectures are sponsored by City of St. George and Arts to Zion / Southern Utah ! (registration is suggested, space limited - sign up at <http://tinyurl.com/WashingtonCountyWorks>)
