My Dear Brother David:-

I was pleased to receive yours of the 12th inst. and hear that you are all in good health. Its not supposed but what the roads would be bad with the rains you have had, between Modena and St. George. I am glad your work is progressing so nicely on the Stake Academy building. There is no doubt but what the people with one united effort will accomplish the task of performing that labor. It would be more convenient if you had the money ready to pay for it but we have to do the best we can.

I regret that George A. is so poorly and I would like to be kindly remembered to him with the assurance that I beleive that that climate will have a good effect and restore him again. I know the effects of Dixie sunshine cannot help but give him relief if he will keep his mind from fretting about things. he may be assured of our prayers going up for his restoration unto perfect health.

We need your sympathy in the victory that our enemies have achieved but our people will learn that unity is strength and every man and women who claims to be Saints should know what their duty is and have courage to do it.

I am pleased to say that a monument has been cast in copper of Brothers Joseph and Hyrum Smith the former occupied the nich of the north side of the South entrance while the latter occupied the nich on the South side of the North entrance as we approach the Temple from the East. Joseph is supposed to be holding out the Book of Mormon while Hyrum stands with both hands supported upon his walking stick. I presume both figures are as nearly correct as they can be as they were taken from the casts obtained from them in death as our father was one that helped to make them, the casts,

My family are in tolerable good health at the present time. Last Wednesday evening upon returning home after eating supper I found myself subject to a very severe chill and upon going to bed I had my feet soaked and the next day found me unable to arise or partake of nourishment until late in the evening, since that time I have been recovering and have not undertaken to answer your kind letter until now. We all join in love to you and yours. I remain,

Your affectionate brother

Angus M. Cannon
