

ST. GEORGE — Newly appointed Washington County Commissioner Garth Last (seated) listens to Royce Jones, Executive Director of the St. George Area Chamber of Commerce, explain why he thinks the County Fair should be moved to the Dixie Center in St. George. Jones was one of many speakers at Monday's commission meeting, where a decision on the future location of the fair was expected. However, the commission ended up postponing its decision, and is expected to make an announcement at its next meeting Monday.

Photo by Dan Dickson