

Talent show set at fair

HURRICANE — A Senior Citizen talent show will be held at 8 p.m. on July 31 as part of the Washington County Fair ribbon cutting ceremony.

The program, which has the theme of "The Nifty Fifties," will feature talent numbers by persons over the age of 50, according to fair board member Theresa Graff.

The program will allow a look back at acts that have performed at the county fair in the past.

In addition to the continuous entertainment, which has become a popular addition to the county fair in recent years, there will be a potpourri talent show on Aug. 2. Lolene Gifford will be the master of ceremonies.

To participate in the talent shows contact a member of the fair board or the county extension office.
