October 10: “Fire Management & Equipment Use”

Mark Rosenthal, BLM Arizona Strip District, Fire management Officer and the crew of Engine 3035 will present a discussion on fire management and the equipment they use on the Arizona Strip. The “Strip” is unique in its varied terrain and difficult access. Engine 3035 is a monster with some unique capabilities. It has up to an eight man crew. There will be a “show and tell” with the engine and crew after the presentation.

October 17: “Desert Southwest” Bo Beck, manager of the Desert Rat, a specialty outdoor store in St. George, UT. He shares his extensive experience with customers and assist visitors to find the right equipment and information to have a great experience in the southwest Desert. Bo is co-author of the popular guidebook; “Favorite Hikes In and Around Zion National Park”.

October 31: “Caves” Diana Northup and her colleagues on the Subsurface Life in Mineral Environments Team are investigating how microbes help form the colorful ferromanganese deposits that coat the walls of various caves. She is Professor Emerita and a Visiting Associate Professor in the Department of Biology at the University of New Mexico.
