

Volunteer Opportunities

The Silver Reef Museum appreciates the help of all our volunteers who help in various capacities.

We need volunteers year round to act as docents, staff special events, and assist with various projects.

Docents tend to work one 4 hour shift once a week at the Museum although some choose to work more or less frequently.

Special events are generally held once or twice a month and volunteers pick which ones they want to work.

We also have various projects that need to be done throughout the year. These include research projects, building/site maintenance/display creation and marketing support.

We will have added need for volunteers when we are hosting the exhibit. If you would like to volunteer either an ongoing basis or for the Smithsonian please call (435)-879-2254

or email Museum@SilverReef.org

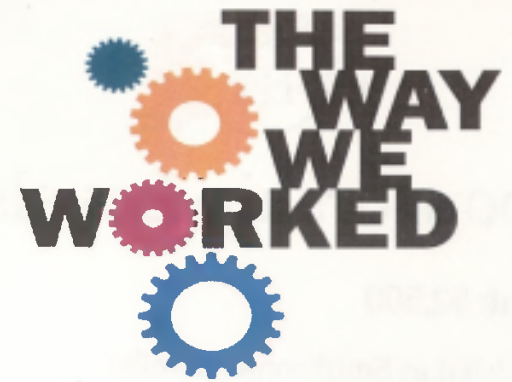

About Silver Reef Utah

Silver Reef was a mining town in what is now present day Leeds, Utah.

Silver Reef was active from the mid 1870s until the early 1890s.

In this period 7.52 million ounces of silver and 10.5 million pounds of copper were extracted from it's mines. The town was important to the economic growth of Washington County and was the site of multiple shootouts and other shenanigans. Many of it's buildings have been relocated, and are found throughout Washington County, where they still serve our community today!

The Way We Worked, an exhibition created by the National Archives, is part of Museum on Main Street, a collaboration between the Smithsonian Institution and Utah Humanities.

A Traveling
Smithsonian Exhibit

Hosted by:
Silver Reef Museum

September 16-November 4, 2017

The exhibit will engage visitors about the history of work in the United States over the past century and a half.

Additionally, the Silver Reef Museum will have exhibits highlighting the history of work in our own community as we examine the work performed in Washington County Utah.
