THE REGIONAL HERITAGE STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM

Preservation Services and Training for the Intermountain West

Register now and join us!

Funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Regional Heritage Stewardship Program (RHSP) is an initiative of the Conservation Center for Art & Historic Artifacts (CCAHA) that brings vital preservation services to regions of the country with limited access to conservators and preservation expertise. Conducted in partnership with Utah field services providers, the Utah Division of Arts & Museums' Office of Museum Services (UA&M) and Utah Humanities (UH), the 2019-2020 RHSP Intermountain West project will bring in-person workshops, webinars, and preservation needs assessments to collecting institutions in under-served parts of Utah, Nevada, Arizona, Colorado, and New Mexico. Webinars are free, monthly, and 90 minutes long. In-person workshops are delivered as two, full-day sessions, taught back-to-back, and incur a modest fee.
