January 2021 DAS Meeting

Our next meeting will be held January 13, 2021 at Dixie State University in the Dunford Auditorium (Room 121, Browning Learning Resource Center) from 7:00PM to 8:30PM. The room seats 48 people with social spacing. The upper level building entry provides access to an elevator that can be used to avoid steps. Masks are required. A Zoom option (see link below) is available for those not attending in person.

Our Speaker will be Susannah Nilsson, a retired educator, DAS member for 13 years, former DAS Board member and former student of the late great Boma Johnson. She was the first recipient of the State of Utah Archaeological Educator of the Year in 1992.

Susannah will discuss her childhood living among the Zuni Ashiwi Pueblo in New Mexico and provide insights into that culture. She will answer questions about the possible migration of the Virgin River Anasazi to the Zuni area. She will also show Zuni handmade jewelry and pottery. She will be great. Don't miss this meeting.
