I just read your article, Moving to a new platform, published June 13, 2021. You said, “We would like to get your feedback.” “We believe in creating community.” “We’ll soon hire our first engagement reporter, who will help us more deeply understand and report on what is important to you.”

May I suggest that you send a committed journalist to St. George and have him/her write an unbiased article on the subject of the Dixie State University name change. Since 2012 you have published numerous articles that were obviously bias in favor of the name change, but only one of which one could call neutral and correct. - Thomas Alexander 2012. You have given voice to the elite, bias and often uniformed at the expense of the rest of us. See if you can bring yourself to do what you say you want to do.

Sincerely,

Heber C. Jones
