

Washington County Schools Need More Buildings-Equipment

Remodeling Proposed For Leeds and Woodward;
New Shop At Hurricane

BY MILTON E. MOODY
County School Superintendent

It was decided at a recent meeting of the Washington county school board that circumstances at this time compell the selling of school bonds to cover the cost of finishing a shop building at Hurricane, remodeling Leeds School building and repairing the stairs and electric wiring at the Old Woodward high building at St. George.

The present shop and agriculture building at Hurricane is a remodeled old garage and is the property of the church security program. The church uses the building every summer and remodels it to suit their needs without thought of the school program. Hurricane high with an enrollment of 425 represents all of the eastern part of the county, so the influence of this inadequate building and equipment is felt over a large part of the district. The brick have been made by the N.Y.A. and the footing and foundations are in. It is hoped, with the money from the voted bonds to place the building under either N.Y.A. or W.P.A. and complete it as soon as possible.

The Leeds school building is the poorest in the county. It is planned to use money from this bond issue and completely remodel. In fact plans show that it can be made into a very modern two room building for about $5,000. The old Woodward is a dangerous building from the standpoint of fire as the stairs are of wood, very steep and badly in need of repair. The electric wiring is dangerous and presents a fire hazard. It is proposed to completely change the wiring and to construct a concrete and steel stairway leading up to the second floor.

The entire bond issue will be for $25,000. It is hoped that taxpayers of the district will support the school board in this plan and come to the polls on June 7, and support this issue. In another part of this paper is printed the call for voting. You will note there the names of the judges and place of voting for each community.
