Sidney Kay Smith Creer

October 15, 1934 - November 3, 2025

Sidney Kay Smith Creer was born Oct. 15, 1934, in Salt Lake City, Utah, to Emory Clarence and Verland Edith Evans Smith. She grew up on her family's ranch near Strawberry Reservoir. That ranch remained one of her favorite places; she and her family would continue to gather there for nearly all of Sidney's 91 years.

Sidney leveled up on Monday, Nov. 3, 2025, at her home in St. George. After a crisp, beautiful autumn walk — yodeling down the lane as she went — she passed away peacefully in her sleep later that afternoon, attended by loving family.

Sidney graduated from East High School in Salt Lake City and attended the University of Utah. She met her future lifelong husband, George Gary Creer, in junior high. They began their courtship in high school and were married Feb. 19, 1954, in the Salt Lake City Temple. "Gary," as his family and friends knew him, passed in 2010; Sidney would go on living another 15 years before they would be reunited, still loving and cherishing his memory all the while.

They have four children together, along with 14 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. Sidney and Gary were passionate about supporting the pursuits and achievements of their posterity. Sidney was a wonderful, dedicated wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and an unforgettable friend.

Sidney was a faithful member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and served in numerous church callings throughout her life. She always saw the good in everyone around her and respected their choices. More than that, she shone as an example, especially when it came to embracing and celebrating life's most positive aspects.

Sidney's hobbies and interests were the ranch, outdoor walks, traveling and spontaneous adventures, skiing and reading. Additionally, she absolutely loved horses, as well as horse packing and trail riding with Gary and many of their great friends.

She is survived by her two younger brothers, Allan (Shirley) Smith and Lee (Sally) Smith; and by her four children: Jennifer (Richard) Kohler, Steven Creer, Jeffrey (Darci) Creer and Michael (Barbara) Creer.
