Dedication

BECAUSE the greatest teacher who ever lived upon this earth gave us a pattern of tolerance and loving kindness for all mankind, we dedicate this book to our neighboring countries far and near. May we grow in love and understanding so that we can sincerely and truly say:

"We pledge allegiance to the United Nations and to a world of peace for which it stands. One world, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Dear jenny,
You're a sweet kid and a lot of fun to be with.
See next year - a friend. Louetta

Dear Jenny,
It's been fun knowing you.
Good luck to a school kid.

FELLOW LEARNERS:

TO UNDERSTAND the world and its people is to be tolerant and respectful of their actions. If we can be tolerant, there needs never to be misunderstandings; if there are no misunderstandings, there will never be wars.

Read and try to understand why people act as they do, and you will grow in respect for them. School participation will help you in this. May you increase your understanding of all that goes on about you. That is real education.

Sincerely,

MILTON E. MOODY

A GAIN I wish to extend my sincere congratulations to the students and teachers who worked so faithfully to preserve for all of us, in word and picture, some of the pleasant moments spent at Woodward. As I thumb through some of the annuals that have preceded this one, I am reminded of Wall Whitman's poetic lines:

"And there I see these sparkling eyes;
These stores of mystic meaning, these young lives
Soon to sail out over the measureless
seas,
On the soul's voyage."

May you travel to lands of romance and learning; gain wisdom from the great and the wise.

Dear Dede, Big,

We have really had a lot of fun together this year. I do hope we can have fun this summer. It has been the most fun I have ever had in my whole year and you have helped to make it so.

How would you like to decide to get married to J.C. (9) or W. P. Jerry, instead of a girl you got married?

See you, ya,
Grace
